A Digast of the Common School System of the State of New-rick By S. S. Randall, General Deputy Superintend-ent of Common Schools. Albany: C. Van Benthu; sen & Co. This work not only embraces a complete Digest visions applicable to the several Cities, &c. and a and votes, our opponents selected their candidate tion of the System. The Compiler having been the political issues as involved in the contest for for the past seven years, was peculiarly qualified with all practicable fidelity. The work will be invaluable if not indispensable to all who are charged with the administration of the Common School System, while it cannot fail to prove highly useful every citizen of the State.

OSEOTA, ORTHE RED RACE OF AMERICA: Their History, Traditions, Customs, Poetry, Picture Writing, &c., in Ex-mets from Notes, Journals, and other unpublished Wri-mors, by HENRY R. SCHOOLCRAFT. No. 1. Aug. 1844. The author of this work, having for twenty-two years of his life been employed in the various capacities of an Executive Agent, Commissioner, or Su perintendent of Indian Affairs in the Northern Department, and having received numerous letters of inquiry respecting the interesting matters which have fallen under his observation, has here embodied in pamphlet form various extracts and memoranda selected from his notes and papers, and proposes, if the plan meets with the favor of the public, to contime them for a few numbers, at convenient intervals, for the information of all who are curious in such matters. The title of the work is very appro priately selected from the language of the peowhose history and traits are brought into discussion : the term Oneota being the name of one of the original nal tribes, (the Oneidas,) signifying, in the Mohawk dialect, the people who are sprung from a Rock .-The present number contains much curious and valusble information, and we cannot doubt that the work will meet with a hearty reception. Published by Burgess, Stringer & Co.

MANDELATIONS IN THE SCIENT FIG ARTS. Parts I. & II. Electrot be Manupulations. Br Guarles V. Walker. Honoary Secretary to the London Electedral Society, &c. Philadelphia: Carcy & Hatt.

Part I. embraces the The Theory and Plain Inemetions in the Art of making Metals, by precipitaties them from their solutions, through the agency of Galvanic or Voltaic Electricity. Part 11. contains the Theory and Plain Instructions in the Arts of Electro-Plating, Electro Gilding and Electro-Etching; with an account of the mode of depositing Metalic Oxydes, and of the several applications of Electrotype in the Arts. The value of the work is well attested by the fact that the present is the twelfth American, from the thirtieth Lordon edition. It is neatly printed in an 18mo, form, illustrated by woodcuts, and sold for 25 cents a number.

'Decision of Character' is the subject of this Address, and it is discussed with great force and ability. Many of the author's sentiments are worthy of much wider notoriety than they will be likely to obtain in the form in which they are here put forth. Inselecting a theme so important in its practical bearings upon the welfare of the Students under his care, Dr. Junkin has set an example which others similarly situated would do well to imitate.

The late Explosion of the Portsmouth.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 15, 1844.
To the Editor of The Bribune: In answer to your Philadelphia Correspondent vented. Any one knowing their age must have expected the late awful explosion. I will state that her boilers were built at the time the old Albany, now running on the River. They were condemned that scason, and taken out of her, and new ones put in their places. These old boilers were then bought for the Fortsmouth, and a ter some little require, were put on board of her. I hope Pailadelphians will look more into the matter, and punish the reckless conduct of those concerned in the steamboat Portsmouth.

The Result in North Carolina. Private Correspondence of the Editor. CHARLOTTE, Aug. 11, 1844.

HORACE GREELEY, Esq.-Dear Sir; Our State Elections being over, and the result fully known, I will give you some information as to the influenecs which seriously affected the result. As was expected, the Whigs have elected their Governor, and, as was not calculated on with entire certainty, have secured a large majority in the Legislature. In the vote for Governor there is some falling off in our majority, but the large majority in the Legislature is more than a compensation for this result. If you are acquainted with North Carolina politics, you know that the large Whig majorities lie in the Congressional cal considerations, which had great influence on its determination. The question of East and West was made throughout that whole section, -by pamphlets written at the Scat of Government, on the eve of the election, and by hired agents distributed through the several counties. Local pride was appealed to and every artifice reof the Whigs, and the consequence necessarily was a loss of several thousand votes in the districts I have named. The gains in the East by the great popularity of Mr. G. in some degree counteracted the effect of this state of things .-The Legislature affords the only true test of parties in the State. While we have not given the fied that in the Mountain region Mr. Clay is stronger by several hundred votes than Gen. Har-Yours.

The above embraces some of the leading prin ciples of the Loco-Foco party upon the subject of the Turiff; and one of the arguments used to in fluence the minds of agriculturists is, that their products are lower now than before the Tariff Law was passed. Admit it, and it only proves that there is a surplus beyond the demand, in consequence of abundant crops, and that the price is not affected by the Tariff-still the farmer is better off now than then; for, if now he has ten bbls, of flour to seil, even at the low price of $41, he is in a far better condition than woen it would command $13, and he had none to dis known attractiveness and unbounded popularity of pose of, in consequence of a short crop. But suppose the party obtain the power to carry our work is appropriately commenced. It is designed as part of Appleton's Library, entitled "Tales for the People and their Children;" and we know not now employed in them that depend upon the farmer to furnish them with their provisions and bread, should be compelled as an inevitable consequence to cultivate the soil, for want of other employment, what would then be the value of the surplus products? The answer is, literally nothing.

> The New-York Shoemaker. An incident which occurred at the meeting of the 14th Ward Clay Club on Thursday evening but to do battle in defence of an open wrong, the is worthy a notice in your paper, as evineing the conceived in sin and brought forth in iniquity certainty that men of talent and integrity are leaving the Loco-Foco party.

The President stated that as no Whig speaker had volunteered to address the meeting, he would grandisement; and who, to attain their object introduce a young gentleman who had been making speeches for the Loco-Focos, but having become convinced of the rottenness of the professions of that party, had come there to avow openly his separation from them, and to make a few re- have no other interest in the election than that marks, by way of commencing to speak, on the the Government shall be administered wisely and Whig side; and he then presented to the meeting justly.

Modest | with a rod of iron. It is useless for the Demoin his manner and rather diffident, it could not be crats to attempt to triumph with their present expected that the maiden speech of a new convert would suit every one, but he was saccessful beyond anticipation, and gave us a history of the d shonesty of the Polk party that places them before the world as shameless deceives in their election ering operations. He had been told by a Democratic lawer, when about to go to a courtry town to address the people in favor of the principles of that party, that as it was a Tariff neighborhood, he must tell them Polk was not only in tayor of a Tariff but of a higher one than Mr. Clay was, and documents were put in his hands to prove it. He knew this was false, and told the lawyer so, adding, "I will have no more to do with you or your documents." Such dishon-esty put him to thinking, and he soon became satished that he could not be an honest man and remain in the Democratic ranks, fighting their bat- says : from the tenor of his remarks, studied Whig principles and policy before he determined to join their standard. He is thoroughly conversant with the Tariff and its history, and it was surprising to hear with what accuracy he produced data for concerning the steamboat Portsmouth, you may all his arguments, and how his mind was stored say that the explosion of her boilers was not an with statistics. I say surprising, because he is this benighted region. In addition to the superunforeseen event that could not have been pre. young. He did not aim at display, but in his wind ng up he gave one of the most practical culogiums on the character of Henry Clay that has been heard in this city, humble though he be, and that her boilers were built at the time the old engaged in his mechanical business. THE WHIG DOCUMENTS. A Working Man's Letter.

Mr. Thomas Chrystal, a journeyman shoemaker of this City, attended and addressed the late now for sale at the Tribune Office. Orders from Loco-Foco mass meeting at Belleville, and his Clay Clubs, Whig Committees, Booksellers, Merremarks were highly commended in The Plebei. chants and individuals, accompanied by the cash, an, Newark Post, Sober Second Thought, &c -It seems, however, that his 'sober second thought' is averse to the great affirmative measure of the party with which he has always hitherto acted, and, being more recently urged to address a Polk and Dallas meeting, he replied as follows:

New York, August 12, 1844.
GENTLEMEN-I received a formal invitation which I accepted, to address the association of which you are the committee, from one of your number, upon the political questions which now of the Laws relating to our Common Schools, but Districts represented at present by Deberry, Bar- agitate the country. It would give me pleasure also the forms, instructions and decisions of the Su- ringer and Clingman. Out of this great Whig to do so, but I could not advocate the election of perintendent, an abstract of the various local pro region, able to give a Whig majority of ten thous. Polk and Dallas; therefore, I suppose, it would not be agreeable to you to hear me: if it would I Sketch of the Origin, Progress and Present Condi- for the office of Governor, and, departing from will meet you cheerfully. If any of you heard my remarks at the Democratic meeting at Belleville, connected with the Department of Common Schools | the Presidency, threw into the struggle many lo- | you will recollect that I took occasion to say that my views upon the annexation of Texas differed from those entertained by the democratic party. They are desirous of making that question the issue in the coming election; and with them a man's democracy depends upon the stand he takes in relation to this subject. I, being opposed, can no longer act with them. The rank and file of the Democratic party, you will recollect, had, sorted to to stimulate this active sentiment. In with almost unparalleled unanimity, long before the mean time the effect of these questions was the meeting of the Democratic Baltimore Connot counteracted by available efforts on the part vention, nominated Mr. Van Buren as their candidate for the Presidency. I was among that number. His letter appeared; in that he took ground against annexation, and for that, the exressed will of the people was disregarded, and Mr. Van Buren was sacrificed for honestly expressing his opinion; and that, too, by a clique,—the meanest and most despicable—who, by their midnight deeds, proved that they were bent upon ties in the State. While we have not given the dispolitical destruction. They nominated in his political destruction. They nominated in his stead a man, who was known only for his blind back to the Legislature the majority of that year, adherence to party, irrespective of right, and who State by a vote increased beyond that of 1840.

Let our Whig friends, therefore, be assured that North Carolina will give for M. Of the control of the contr North Carolina will give for Mr. Clay a vote equal to that of 1840, if not larger. I am satishave nominated Mr. Polk, they demand of the people unqualified obedience and support. It remains to be seen whether the great mass of the Democratic party will consent to have their can. didate thrown aside and a man nominated in his stead, who, before the meeting of that Convention, was not named in connection with the Pre-

I had hoped, yes believed, even after the pas sage of the resolutions in reference to Texas by the Convention, that a Democrat could make such issue as he chose in regard to Annexation This it was that actuated me in supporting the nominees of the Convention at all. It seems I was doomed to disappointment.

There are times in the history of all parties when it is necessary to refer to old landmarksto revert to old principles, for the purpose of seeing what change has taken place, and if any, whether they were beneficial or otherwise. Men, by a continued adherence to party, are apt to ceme burnted, are apt to delegate the right of thinking to their leaders, believing that they can

Co no wrong.

The sham cry of "Democracy and the denpeople" are words familiar to those warm weather. expedient loving patriots-I mean the leaders of the Democratic party ;-their false speeches, fill ed with love for the laboring classes, I have heard until they ceased to be musical. By such means they have succeeded in fulling to sleep thousands of honest, well meaning men. I trust this four plot to annex Pexas to this Union will be the means of awakening them from their slumbers. Can it be possible that they are in favor of ad mitting that territory into our Union, saddled as it is with a debt of $22,000,000, which this country will have to assume, thereby creating a national debt, and that too by the very party who have been most clamorous against one; besides we shall annex several Slave States to the Union. Modern democracy and slavery go hand in hand -but it is not pure democracy; it is a spurious article. Add to that a war with Mexico, aided, by other foreign powers The horrors of war are at all times to be avoided, for foul, base, political purposes—to retrieve the fortunes of a fallen party; fallen by the wicked. ness of men who labored only for personal agare ever ready to appeal to illiberal prejudices, or to suborn as auxiliary to party strife the evil spirit

Pharisaical leaders. For the honest-for those who are in favor of the perpetuity of our country and her institutions-there can be nothing in the Democratic party, as at present organized, that accords with their views. For myself, I here re-nounce them, and pledge myself to the Whig cause. My time and my humble aid shall be used to help to promote the election of Clay and Frelinghuysen; believing that the success of the Whigs is auspicious with every interest, and that the Texas plot could in the hands of Mr. Clay meet its reward.
